Ali Ufki - Mecmua-i Saz ü Söz'de Usul İncelemeleri

Asst. Prof. Dr. Esra KARAOL - Asst. Prof. Dr. Deniz TUNÇER*

ÖZET

Bu makale; Ali Ufki'nin Mecmua-i Saz ü Söz eserinde yer alan usullerin, başta Hakan Cevher'in Çeviri yazım-inceleme'si olmak üzere, Muammer Uludemir'in çalışmaları ve Yalçın Tura'nın Kantemiroğlu Edvari çalışması kapsamında, günümüzde kullanılan usullerle karşılaştırmalı olarak sunulduğu bir derleme çalışmasıdır.

Derlemenin amacı; 17. ve 18. yüzyıl Türk müziği makam ve tür çalışmalarına göre, nispeten ikinci planda kaldığı gözlemlenen usuller ile ilgili araştırmalara katkıda bulunmaktır.

Mecmua-i Saz ü Söz'de adı geçen usuller incelenerek, alfabetik olarak sıralanmış ve hem aynı dönemde yazılmış Kantemiroğlu Edvari'ndaki hem de bugün kullanılan vuruş gösterimleri ile şematize edilmiştir. Böylelikle, günümüzde kullanılan usullerin büyük çoğunluğunun, Ali Ufki'nin kullandığı birimlerle yazılmakta olduğu tespit edilmiştir.

Anahtar Kelimeler: Ali Ufki, Mecmua-i Saz ü Söz, usuller.

ABSTRACT

This article is a compilation study in which the usuls (special rhythmic pattern) included in Ali Ufki's work titled "Mecmua-i Saz ü Söz" in comparison with the usuls used today with reference particularly to Hakan Cevher's translation-review and to Muammer Uludemir's studies and Yalçın Tura's study on "Kantemiroğlu Edvari" (Kantemiroğlu Circles).

The objective of this compilation is to contribute in the research on usuls which are observed to be rather of secondary importance compared to studies on makam and genre of Turkish makam music during the 17th and 18th centuries.

Usuls referred in "Mecmua-i Saz ü Söz" are examined, alphabetized and schematized with beat views both in the Kantemiroğlu Edvari and used today. Thus, it is determined that most of the usuls used today were written with note values used by Ali Ufki.

Keywords: Ali Ufki, Mecmua-i Saz u Soz, usuls.

INTRODUCTION¹

The problems encountered by Turkish makam music from past to present are lack of documentation, lack of a tradition of academic writing, lack of habit of document keeping, lack of interest of many valuable manuscripts (just like the manuscript of Ali Ufki named "Mecmua-i Saz u Soz") during their era and even having been faced with reaction and negligence and having been taken or smuggled to abroad.

One of the two important names which can be deemed of the highest significance with respect to music in the 17th century and will shed light on the history of Turkish makam music today is Ali Ufki Bey who is determined to have lived during 1610-1675² and the other is Prince Dimitrius Cantemir who lived during 1673-1727. One of the most important works of Cantemir is another music book named "Kitab-u İlmi'l-Musiki Ala Vechi'l-Hurufat" (written after "Mecmua-i Saz u Soz" of Ali Ufki) which is also known as Kantemiroğlu Edvarı. These two works are of indispensable importance for the history of Turkish makam music as they bring many works of the late 17th century and early 18th century to present. In addition, the information provided by Ali Ufki in his book named "Saray-ı Enderun" gives important details about the state of Turkish makam music in the Ottoman Palace during the midst of the 17th century.

We became aware of Ali Ufki's manuscript named "Mecmua-i Saz u Soz" which began to be written during the midst of the 17th century as late as 193, studies performed during the 1950s were unable to be passed to present and the facsimile of the manuscript was transmitted to present by Prof. Dr. Şükrü Elçin³ in 1976.

"Mecmua-i Saz ü Söz" has two original manuscripts one of which is in National Bibliothèque of Paris and the other in British Library of London. The copy in Paris is known as the draft of the manuscript in London.

This manuscript of the 17th century contains many vocal and instrumental works of the 16th and the 17th centuries. This document which is important for the history of Turkish makam music has a priceless value as it is the only historical work which is known to present and can bring valuable data about Turkish makam music to present day. The manuscript is formed of chapters sorted according to makams and various examples are provided in each makam. In addition to examples, there are also instructive verses in which drug recipes, poems and jokes are included. Therefore, this manuscript has two important properties as notes and texts.

Up to now, many people worked on Ali Ufki and his works indirectly in various forms regarding Mecmua-i Saz ü Söz. A significant part of these studies are performed by Muammer Uludemir⁴.

USUL ANALYSES IN "MECMUA-İ SAZ Ü SÖZ"

16 different usuls are used in MSS⁵. When these usuls are analyzed one by one the data which can reveal the concept of usul in the 17th century are as follows⁶:

1- Berevşan: It has 32 durations. It is formed of two 6 durations (Yürük Semai) at the start and five 4 durations (Sofyan) ($6+6+4+4+4+4=32$)⁷. In this usul with a special run, 8 works⁸ are composed. Below is the table 1 for the usul works named Berevşan and in which the usul Berevşan is used according to their page number in MSS.

USUL	MSS NUMBER	GENRE	NOTES
Devr-i Kebir ma'el Berevşan	021	Pışrev

[The meteric runs of works on the MSS page numbers marked in bold and italics in (all) footnotes required reanalyze. M. Hakan Cevher's study (also forming the basis for this study) is not corrected as it is a translation.] This usul which has 32 durations in Ali Ufki is shown with 16 durations by Kantemiroğlu and its beats are as follows:⁹

Düm	tek	düm	tek	düm	düm		tek	Düm	düm	tek	te-ke	te-ke

2- Çenber: It has 24 durations. It is formed of two 4 durations (Sofyan), two 5 durations (Yürük Semai) and one 4 durations (Sofyan)¹¹. When 5 scored "pişrev"s¹² using this usul are analyzed, no specific indication is found to express the features of this usul. Below given is the table 2 for the usul works named Çenber and in which the usul Çenber is used.

No staff is seen to express a state for the special beats of this usul. Kantemiroğlu showed the beats of the Darb-ı Fetih Usul as follows:

Düm tek tek düm tek tek te-ke düm tek tek
2 1 1 2 1 1 2 2 2 1 2 1 1 1

Also Muammer Uludemir wrote about 18 "pişrev"s where the Darb-ı Fetih Usul which is only used in "pişrev"s in MSS is used (indicated in writing in 17 "pişrev"s) in his article¹⁴ titled "The Darb-ı Fetih Usul in Ali Ufki" in Music Review .

As a result, it is indicated that the Darb-ı Fetih usul has 22 quarters and 2 beats and the beats are shown as follows table 5:

The beats of the Darb-i Fetih usul used today are as follows¹⁵:

Düm tek tek düm tek Tek te ke düm tek tek Düm tek düm Tek
 2 1 1 2 1 1 1 1 2 1 1 2 2 2 2 2

4- Devr-i Kebir: It is found that this usul has 7 durations and a run in pattern of 3+2+2. 3 indicate three halves and 2 indicate two wholes. ... As a result, since Devr-i Kebir has 7 beats, we must write 7 quavers¹⁶. It is not similar to the devr-i kebir usul with 28 durations used today and has the same run with the devr-i hindi usul. The number of works indicated with the above stated patterns and named devr-i kebir is 44¹⁷. Below is the table 6 for the usul/works named Devr-i Kebir and in which the Devr-i Kebir usul is used in particular according to the genre where the Devr-i Kebir usul is most frequently used and then their page number in MSS.

CONCLUSION

When the usuls included in MSS are analyzed, as it will be required to make corrections on the written works for those apart from them to be named, the phrase of "unfound" is used for the usuls of such kind of works³⁵. While the names of the usuls found are specified in the index, an asterisk (*) sign is used following the name of a usul. All usuls apart from Devr-i kebir and semai are similar to those usuls used today only in terms of the figures expressing the usul. Only for the devr-i kebir usul, when scoring notes, a very clarifying and special order is used for the using form of this usul then. It makes it difficult to make certain decisions on the usuls used in those times as such application is not used for any other usuls except this usul.

As the results of the analysis performed on the usuls, it is possible to conclude that;

- The frames used for the usuls are not consistent,
- Some frames are used for multiple usuls,
- Usually, works scored under the same usul name or frame are not within the same discipline,
- Many works even lack a name of usul,
- There are missing, forgotten or extra parts when scoring the notes of some works,
- The Devr-i kebir, evfer and semai usuls are not the same as they are used today,
- There is no phrase which indicates the special beats of many of the said usuls known and applied today,
- Ali Ufki Bey who scored all the works may have been unaware of the special beat patterns of the usuls or have ignored them.

No certain order is observed generally in the usuls and the signs used for them. Multiple signs are used for the same usul often. Details obtained about usuls are listed below:

- a. The Devr-i Kebir usul has 7 durations, but not 24 durations as it is used today. It is set in the form of 3+2+2. It is the same as the Devr-i Hindi usul used today.
- b. Also the Berevşan usul is not similar to its pattern and special beats used today.
- c. No usuls used except the Devr-i Kebir, Berevşan, Darb-i Feth and Semai usuls demonstrate a certain order.

When the values used for usuls by Ali Ufki are compared with the values used by Kantemiroğlu, it is seen that Ali Ufki's values and the figures used by Kantemir match in many usuls and some figures drop to half of those used by Ali Ufki. Today, most of these usuls are written with the units used by Ali Ufki. In the notes scored by both Ali Ufki and Kantemiroğlu generally firsts and the values they contain are observed but not sets of 2+3 etc³⁶.

The usuls which are not referred to in the 16 usuls included in the study of M. Hakan Cevher but indicated in the index are analyzed in alphabetical order the works indicated as "unfound" (15) for the usuls of the works on which correction must be made and as "unidentifiable" (11) as they are not scored are given in the tables 28 and 29.

Geçmişten Günümüze Bulgurlu'da Namazgâh Camii (Cavid Ağa Camii)

The Namazgah Mosque (The Cavid Aga Mosque) in Bulgurlu from Past to Present

Yrd. Doç. Dr. GÜL SARİDİKMEN*

ÖZET

Namazgâh Camii (Cavid Ağa Camii), Üsküdar'da Bulgurlu Mahallesi'nde Ümraniye sınırlına yakın olarak Alemdağ Caddesi ile İzzettin Bey Sokağı köşesinde yer alır. Bu alan, eskiden burada var olan bir namazgâhtan dolayı Namazgâh Mevkii olarak bilinir. Alemdağ/Alemdağ Caddesi/Bostancıbaşı Namazgâhi'nın kırık kible taşı, günümüzde cami girişin altındaki küçük depoda yer alır.

Günümüzde ibadete açık olan cami, 1995 yılında yaptırılmıştır. Burada var olan namazgâh alanına, 1900'lerin başında dikdörtgen planlı, kiremit kaplı ahşap kırma çatı örtülü küçük bir cami yapılmıştır. Caminin ahşap minaresinin şerefe kısmı, köşk tipindedir. Zamanla harap olan cami, 1960 yılında orijinaline uygun olarak yenilenmiştir. 1994 yılında çıkan bir yangın sonucunda ahşap çatısı ve minaresi yanınca cami kullanılamaz duruma gelmiştir. 1995 yılında tamamen yıktırılarak orijinal cami ve minareye uygun şekilde yeniden inşa edilmiştir. Bodrum kat üzerine betonarme yapılan caminin duvarları ahşap kaplamalı ve üzeri dört yana eğimli kiremit kaplı kırma çatı ile örtülüdür.

Bulgurlu köyü ve çevresini resimlerine aktaran Üsküdarlı ressam Hoca Ali Rıza'nın (1858-1930) resimleri, 1900'ler başındaki ilk camının durumunu belgelemesi açısından önemlidir. Sanatçının görsel belge değerindeki bu resimleri ve 1960 sonrasında görünen belgeleyen fotoğraflar ile yazılı belgeler işliğinde, Namazgâh Camii'nin yıllar içindeki durumu değerlendirilmiş ve 1995 yılında yeniden yapılan camının günümüzdeki durumu hakkında bilgi verilmiştir.
